Academic Thoracic Surgeon

The University of British Columbia, Vancouver Coastal Health, and Providence Health Care invite applications for an academic, general thoracic surgeon to join the Division of Thoracic Surgery at Vancouver General Hospital and St. Paul's Hospital and in the UBC Department of Surgery. The individual we seek will hold advanced training and skills in general thoracic surgery and lung transplantation. These hospitals provide a comprehensive clinical and academic regional program. The successful candidate must hold certification in Thoracic Surgery from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada and be eligible for licensure by the BC College of Physicians and Surgeons.

A master's degree in education, public health, epidemiology or a related field is recommended. Applicants should demonstrate a record of excellence in thoracic surgery training, clinical service and academic expertise.

Remuneration and rank as a member of the Clinical Faculty are commensurate with qualifications and experience. A detailed CV, letter of interest, and names of 3 referees should be sent to:

Dr. Garth L. Warnock, Professor & Head
UBC Dept. of Surgery
#3100 JPPN
Vancouver BC V5Z 4E3
or via email to: surg.jobs@ubc.ca

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Learn more about us at: www.surgery.ubc.ca , www.vch.ca , www.providencehealthcare.org and <http://www.thoracicsurgery.bc.ca/aboutus.html> .

UBC, Vancouver Coastal Health, and Providence Health Care hire on the basis of merit and are committed to employment equity. We encourage all qualified persons to apply.

UBC is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. Citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.
